1. Executive Summary

In response to the widespread need for specialised training in the medical sector, the EU-funded project 'VIPROM – Victim Protection in Medicine' aims to improve multi-professional contact with victims of domestic violence. To this end, the VIPROM project has developed domestic violence curricula for medical professionals and students, including physicians, nurses, midwives, medical students, dentists and dental students, in close collaboration with medical faculties, hospitals, research organisations, medical educators and victim support organisations in Austria, Germany, Greece, Italy and Sweden.

Deliverable D4.3, 'Report on the European Webinar Series', outlines the development and implementation of the European Webinar Series (EWS) from the preparatory phase in 2024 to full finalisation in 2025. To ensure broad participation, a dissemination strategy was developed in close collaboration with the dissemination partner, WAVE. This strategy included a three-step social media campaign, promotional newsletters, teaser E-Mails, and face-to-face outreach activities. Launched in March 2025, the EWS quickly established itself as a high-quality training series for medical professionals from a wide range of settings across Europe, from Finland to Greece. The initiative was highly successful, with approximately 1,900 participants and 76 certificates issued. It also laid the groundwork for a follow-up stakeholder event: the 'Changemaker Event', which is planned for October 2025.

2. Introduction

“These Webinars were an eye-opener! I found them very informative.”

(Participant of our EWS)

The primary goal of the EU VIPROM project, “Victim Protection in Medicine: Exploiting Practical Knowledge of Medical Staff to Enhance Multi-Professional Contact with Victims of Domestic Violence”, is to provide healthcare professionals with the knowledge and skills required to support victims of domestic violence effectively and appropriately. Given their critical role in early detection, providing appropriate care and referring victims to specialised protection services, healthcare providers are essential to improving the health and safety of victims and survivors of domestic violence. To better understand the specific needs and existing knowledge of medical professionals in the partner countries, VIPROM conducted a needs assessment (see D2.1). This revealed significant gaps in medical staff's ability to support victims of domestic violence.

To address those gaps, VIPROM implemented the following key achievements: i) development of the European training platform based on desk research, ii) design of VIPROM stakeholder tailored curriculum and related training concepts for various medical professionals, such as doctors, dentists, nurses, midwives and medical and dental students, in five countries: Austria, Germany, Greece, Italy and Sweden, iii) establishment and piloting national train-the trainer programme, iv) piloting and evaluating of national stakeholder trainings.

Building on this, the VIPROM also aimed to increase the number of stakeholders in the medical sector who were reached, extending beyond the countries represented in VIPROM and the participants of face-to-face training sessions. Thus, the VIPROM consortium has developed a series of fortnightly Webinars, one for each module of our European training platform running from March to July 2025.

All these activities are essential for the long-term sustainability and effectiveness of VIPROMs training initiatives.

3. Development of the European Webinar Series

3.1 Preparatory phase

3.1.1 Planning activities

Internal meetings

The preparatory phase started in beginning of May 2024 with a first internal meeting with the project coordinator, Bettina Pfeleiderer (UM) and T4.4 task lead Olga Damsen (GES). In this meeting, initial organisational and conceptual arrangements were made. Moreover, the aim was to decide on the content to be covered in the Webinars (see chapter 3.1.2) and to discuss a participant recruiting strategy & dissemination plan (see chapter 4). Further internal consultations between UM and GES took place mainly via E-Mail or joint conferences with dissemination partner Women Against Violence Europe (WAVE) (see chapter 4).

Consortium meetings:

In a next step, UM and GES set up consortium meetings with all partners. These meetings were used to pass on information about internal agreements between project coordination and task lead as well as the joint collection of ideas and to take decisions on the next step forward.

The following is a chronological sequence of the consortium meetings in the preparatory phase:

| First EWS Consortium Meeting: 21 May 2024                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |

| The final meeting before the Webinar series began clarified any remaining questions, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Information regarding the participant area (see chapter 3.2.3)</li> <li>• Technical support and information on a “test call” via Zoom (see chapter 5.1)</li> <li>• The current status of the procedure for obtaining credit points (see chapter 3.2.4)</li> <li>• General feedback on the Power Point presentation (Figure 1) and handouts (see chapter 3.1.3)</li> <li>• Last due dates (e.g. knowledge assessment template, final Power Points)</li> <li>• Guidelines for the speakers</li> <li>• Last updates on the dissemination process (see chapter 4)</li> </ul> |

In addition to the three consortium meetings, updates on the European Webinar Series were given at the in-person VIPROM consortium meeting in Uppsala, Sweden (17-18 September 2024) and at the online spring consortium meeting (10-11 March 2025). In between, the speakers received more information, templates and due dates via E-Mail. A test videocall on the platform “Zoom”- our agreed upon online Webinar platform - took place on the 18 February 2025. In this meeting, UM introduced all relevant technical features to the speakers and gave further instructions. More information on the technical part can be found in chapter 5.1.

3.1.2 Content of the Webinar series

In addition to training medical professionals outside the VIPROM partner countries, the purpose of the Webinar series was to promote the European Training Platform on Domestic Violence to a broader audience. For this reason, a huge part of the EWS content for our Webinars was taken from the modules 1-8 of the platform and our ICC handbook. Because of the importance of awareness rising when it comes to stereotypes and biases on DV, content of (Module 8) was also included in Webinars 1, 3 and 4. In order to plan this, IKF, UU and HFPA were asked to discuss the content to be used from Module 8 with project partner PLUS, the VIPROM expert on intercultural competence and stereotypes.

The following topics were covered:

- Forms and Dynamics of Domestic Violence (Module 1)
- Becoming Culturally Responsive and Blocking Bias in Healthcare (ICC handbook)
- Indicators of Domestic Violence (Module 2)

After establishing the framework and content of the first seven Webinars (see Table 1), the Consortium discussed the content of the final three. To make the Webinars more stakeholder-specific and to include a professional group that is often overlooked as a key first-line responder for identifying domestic violence (DV), the consortium decided to focus on dentistry for the eighth Webinar. For the final two Webinars, we invited two organisations: IRIS interventions \(IRISi\) for Webinar 9 and Women Against Violence Europe \(WAVE\) for Webinar 10. Both organisations have many years of expertise in the field of domestic violence. IRISi can offer expertise on the interconnectedness between domestic violence (DV) and sexual health and is also part of VIPROMs advisory board, while WAVE is known for its broad European network of victim support organisations and its engagement at a political level, including shadow reports on the Istanbul Convention. WAVE therefore agreed to conduct the tenth Webinar on the Istanbul Convention, using the input from Module 6 of the training platform. Table 1 lists the dates and titles of the Webinar series.

3.1.3 Creation of Power Point presentations, handouts, knowledge assessments

To ensure the EWS met high quality standards, the coordinator team (UM and GES) pre-defined presentation standards, didactic methodology and framework. These were summarised in a concept note (see Annex 1) and sent to the partners in July 2024. The framework included, among other things:

- To acknowledge the limited impact of Webinars (one hour of teaching) and focus on basic knowledge transfer and introducing the platform.
- To convey VIPROM's essential message: 'Recognise and act on DV; you are key figures and your actions are important'.
- To use simple English, as not everyone is a native speaker.
- To make use of case studies, videos, pictures, etc.
- To keep it practice-oriented
- To include reflection tasks.

Moreover, the concept note included a reminder to keep the Webinar sessions as stakeholder- and practice-oriented as possible. One of the challenges was the language barrier, as well as the fact that participants came from a variety of medical professions in different settings (e.g. independent midwife – dentist). External partners WAVE and IRISi received an adapted document with more information on the VIPROM project.

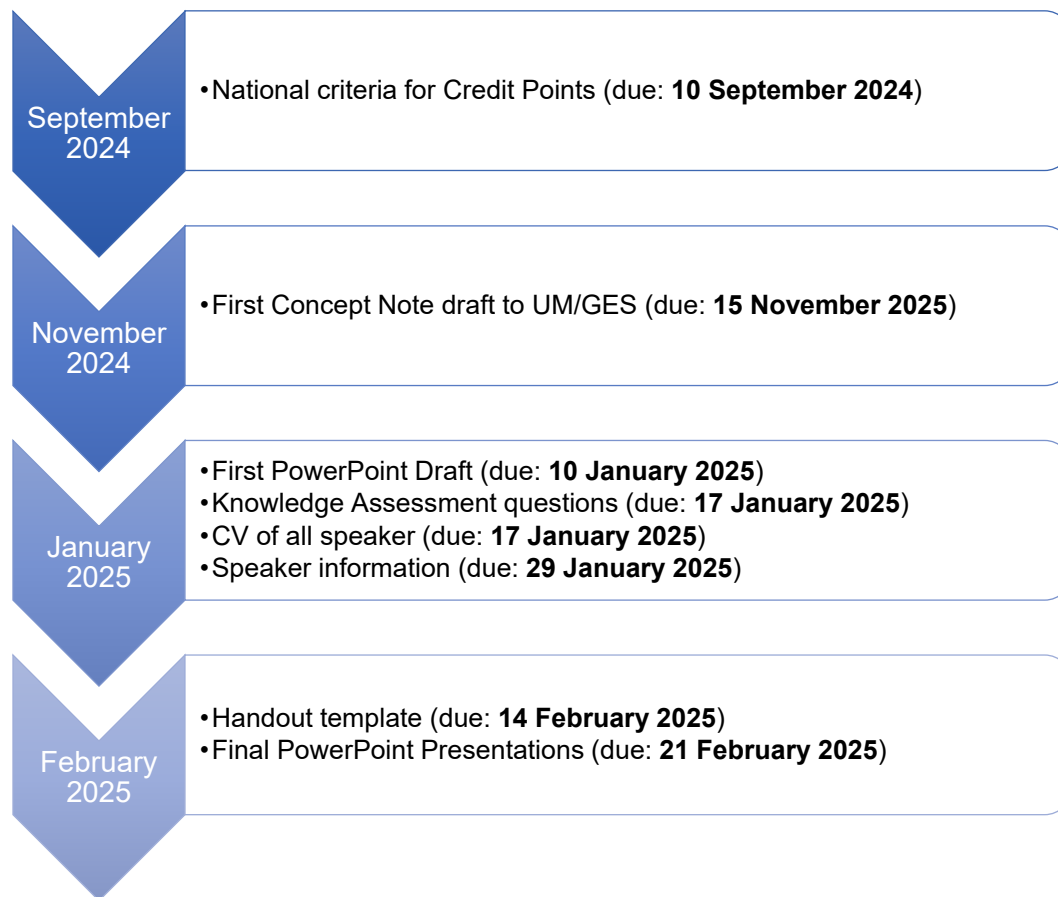

Following the distribution of the concept note, the partners were requested to submit their initial draft by 15 November 2024. Using this template, the EWS coordinator team gained an initial understanding of the content, for example, whether it is adequately targeted at the target group, meets the quality standards, and whether there is any duplicated content. After providing the partners with feedback on the draft, the next step was to ask them to create the Webinar presentations. To ensure a unified appearance, UM created a PowerPoint template for the EWS.

The EWS coordinator team, GES and UM, reviewed the PowerPoint presentations on 10 January 2025. In doing so, they not only double-checked the content, but also ensured the Webinars, visual branding and sources were of a high quality. At the same time, the partners were asked to prepare a handout for their respective Webinar and to compile questions for the knowledge assessment tests. Templates with explanations were provided to guide them through both tasks. Questions requiring further clarification were sent to the presenters via E-Mail, and video calls were arranged if needed.

3.2 Organisational infrastructure of the Webinars

3.2.1 Website

The VIPROM website played a central role in disseminating and supporting the Webinar series. A dedicated section was created under the “Training” tab to present the European Webinar Series (EWS). Additionally, a direct button on the homepage provided quick access to this section (Figure 3).

The EWS page on our project webpage was designed to provide participants with comprehensive information and easy access. As the EWS information page after the EWS ended was changed, screenshots of the EWS page pre and during the Webinar series are presented in Figure 4 A-B. It included a registration form for the Webinar series and an overview of all Webinars, including their dates, topics and speakers. It also included a link to the participant area. Access to the participant area was restricted to registered users, who received login credentials via E-Mail.

In addition, once the Webinars were made publicly available, the “VIPROM Training Videos and Webinars” page was updated with links to the recordings of the sessions uploaded publicly on YouTube. To this end, a description was written for each uploaded webinar. As of July 1, the registration for the Webinar series was closed. The original registration form was then replaced with a new form for the Changemaker Event (Figure 5 A-B), which was largely modelled on the same structure as the Webinar registration process.

3.2.2 Registration Process

The registration process for the European Webinar Series involved completing an online form integrated into the EWS webpage, which was designed to capture essential participant information (Figures 6A+B). The registration form included fields for name, E-Mail address, organisation (with 17 selectable options, including 'None' and 'Other'), professional background (with 23 options, including 'Other'), and sector (with 4 options). Registration was open from December 2024 until 8. July 2025 after which no further entries were accepted. All registrations were received by E-Mail and systematically transferred to an Excel spreadsheet for monitoring purposes. In parallel, the information was also maintained in a shared Google document to allow direct access to all registered E-Mail addresses. Every two weeks, reminder messages for the upcoming Webinar (including the Zoom invitation link) were sent to this mailing list (see chapter 4.1).

All participants received an E-Mail confirming their registration. This E-Mail included the Zoom link and password for the participant area, as well as all the necessary information regarding the assessment test. For participants who registered before 3 March, the E-Mail sent was a combination of a 'mail teaser' (the procedure for 'mail teasers' is explained in chapter 4.1) and a confirmation E-Mail, including the aforementioned information. The log-in data was sent separately on 3 March. Participants who registered after 3 March received a simple registration confirmation including the login data (more detailed information can be found in chapter 5). They then received mail teasers 2–10 (see Annex 5) through the mailing list two weeks before the respective Webinar.

3.2.3 Participant area

Setup & maintenance

The participant area was updated regularly to ensure that registered users had access to the latest materials and information. After each Webinar, the Webinar recording was uploaded to the European YouTube channel on domestic violence as an unlisted video, and the access link was made available exclusively in the participant area for two weeks. Once this period had expired, the recording was made publicly accessible on YouTube and linked in both the participant area and the 'Training Videos and Webinars' section of the VIPROM website. While the first two recordings were uploaded directly to the participant area, this practice was replaced from Webinar 3 onwards by the use of unlisted YouTube uploads. This approach enabled more reliable tracking of participant numbers and facilitated the upload of larger files.

In addition to the recordings, the participant area provided access to further resources. These included handouts for each Webinar, uploaded shortly after the live session and later compiled into a complete collection of all ten (Figure 7 A-D). Each Webinar was also accompanied by a dedicated assessment test. The link to the assessment test was available in the participant area for two weeks after each Webinar. Once this period had ended and the test had closed, the correct answers were uploaded so that participants could review their result.

Welcome to the participant area of the VIPROM European Webinar Series!

Thank you for your interest in our European Webinar Series (EWS) on domestic violence. The EWS concluded on 8 July 2025. Once you have logged in, you will find all the webinar recordings in the participant area.

However, the recordings will also be freely accessible on our European YouTube channel.

On the platform, you will also find links to the corresponding webinar assessment questions, as well as a downloadable handout for each webinar and a compiled document including all handouts.

3.2.4 Assessment questions, Credit Points and Certificates

When planning the Webinar series, we identified possible solutions to potential barriers (see chapter 3.1.3) to participation early on. One idea to counteract low number of participants was to offer credit points. These are helpful for medical professionals because they fulfil their training obligation, receive a recognised certificate, and do not have to complete the training in their 'free time.' The VIPROM consortium opted for the following proposal:

Participants could get a certificate of attendance and/or credit points (CPs) by passing five knowledge assessment tests. Seven out of ten answers had to be correct to successfully pass an individual assessment test. Participants could take part without doing the tests, but would not receive CPs or a certificate. However, after all partners researched their national Credit Point criteria, it became clear that only participants from Germany and Austria could apply for them. Project coordinator Bettina Pfeiderer (UM) organised accreditation via the German Medical Chamber; however, no participants applied for CPs. The option to enter the FN number (necessary for claiming CPs) was removed after the second set of tests, as no participants had provided this information by that time and there were high fees associated with getting CPs. As the medical faculty of a university, UM was responsible for the entire process.

The assessment questions were programmed in UNIPARK and became accessible in the log-in/participant area right after the Webinar ended. In order to identify participants and enable the delivery of certificates and results, each test began with a short form requesting the participant's name, city and country of birth, and E-Mail address. Participants were given two weeks to complete the tests. Rather than receiving individual results after each assessment, the correct answers were uploaded to the participant area once each assessment period ended. Participants then received an E-Mail indicating whether they had passed or failed, but without any detailed scoring information. By the end of the EWS, participants received their individual assessment test results separately.

UM designed a certificate (see Annex 6). In total 76 participants received their certificate via E-Mail within a time period: 1-15 August 2025.

4. Dissemination

4.1 Dissemination Strategy

The dissemination strategy of the EWS involved four main steps:

- Preparatory Phase
- Pre-announcement/Save the Date
- Opening of the registration
- E-Mail campaign with teasers.

Preparatory Phase

Initial ideas on promoting the European Webinar Series were collected by UM and GES at an early stage of the EU project. This also involved including the VIPROM dissemination partner, WAVE, in this project phase through regular E-Mail correspondence and video calls. The first video call with WAVE, which was held on 26 March 2024, was used to set up a general time framework and discuss initial ideas for the promotion. It was decided that a 'Save the date' post would be published in October 2024, followed by a reminder and the opening of the registration process in December 2024, with a series of promotional teasers to be released during the Webinar series. All graphics can be found in the Annexes, along with example screenshots in the main document (Figures 9; 10 A+B).

The development of the social media and newsletter material took place via E-Mail correspondence and two more in-depth video calls on 24 September 2024 and 7 February 2025. While WAVE developed the dissemination material, the project coordinator (UM) developed a branding banner (Figure 7, Annex 7) for use on the website, in various newsletters and on social media. Including a QR code on the branding banner was intended to facilitate the registration process. The branding banner was uploaded to the VIPROM website next to the registration mask. The branding banner was also included in the save the date and teaser for each Webinar (see below). It was also included in newsletter sections.

Pre-announcement / Save the Date

The EWS was pre-announced via social media posts on WAVE's Instagram, Facebook and LinkedIn channels on 14, 15 and 16 October 2024 (see Annex 8). It was decided that WAVE's posts would be reposted instead of creating our own, since WAVE has a higher reach and number of engagements.

Opening of the registration

By December 2025, the official Branding Banner (Figure 7) and the registration mask on the Website These were finalised by UM. From then on, the branding banner was used to promote the Webinar series. First, it was included in a WAVE social media post on 22 December 2024 (see Annex 9) and in the January 2025 WAVE newsletter (see example in Figure 8)), where the Webinar series was promoted alongside the registration link (see Figure 9). The social media postings and newsletter contributions were created in collaboration between WAVE, UM and GES in November and December 2024.

VIPROM EUROPEAN WEBINAR SERIES

The EU project VIPROM – Victim Protection in Medicine (2023-ongoing) is dedicated to providing sustainable, embedded, and institutionally recognised training to medical professionals on how to effectively respond to domestic violence.

Starting in March 2025, the European Webinar Series will feature experts and medical trainers sharing valuable knowledge, skills, and best practices.

Why attend?

- Learn how to identify and address domestic violence in healthcare settings
- Gain insights from leading experts, including members of the VIPROM consortium and partners
- Participate in live Q&A sessions, clarify concepts, and exchange experiences with peers

During the EWS: E-Mail campaign with Teasers

In a last step, the EWS coordinator team agreed to work with so-called “teaser” for each Webinar. This occurred in two ways: i) WAVE Social Media Teasers and ii) reminders via E-Mail.

Social media teasers

The EWS was primarily promoted via social media in cooperation with the dissemination partner, WAVE, on their channels. It was decided that two graphics would be used for each post: the first with an image, a suitable quote and the title of the Webinar (Figure 10). During development, care was taken to use non-stereotypical images (e.g. female physicians and people of colour) and to keep the text brief to make it suitable for social media audiences. The second graphic was an adaptation of UM's branding banner in WAVE's design. Postings were uploaded 13 days before the next Webinar (see the complete table of dates and graphics in Annex 10). The aim of these posts was to acquire possible participants on an ongoing basis, both before and during the official start of the EWS. This strategy had a particularly positive effect by the end of the Webinar series, with new registrations received for Webinars 8 (Spotlight Dentistry) and 10 (Spotlight Legal Framework).

Reminder via E-Mail

EWS coordinator team (UM and GES) decided to use 'mail teasers' (Annex 5, see also chapter 4.1). Each E-Mail contained information on the next Webinar, login details, and general information on the certification process. These teasers were sent to participants via E-Mail 5–6 days before the respective Webinar. The aim was to remind participants of the upcoming Webinar, encourage them to participate by providing a preview of the next topic, and ensure they had all the necessary information to participate without barriers. In addition, the EWS was promoted in VIPROM's January Newsletter and through VIPROM consortium partners.

All partners promoted the Webinar series through actions like

- Face-to-face promotion on events or trainings (e.g.: Panhellenic Medical Congress in Greece (Figure 11 left); national VIPROM stakeholder trainings; Expert roundtable on DV organised by VICESSE and IKF in Austria; High- and Low-Risk Pregnancy Care in Italy;
- Social Media Postings (resharing WAVE's postings and creating own postings in national language (UU, Figure 11 right)
- Entries on Websites (e.g. VICESSE, AOUPR)
- E-Mail invitations to relevant stakeholders
- Newsletters (e.g. UU on their website)

The effect of ongoing promotion was visible through later registrations, e.g. from participants from Greece.

Moreover, WAVE continued with the promotion of the EWS while it was already running in their Newsletters and monthly highlights:

- WAVE March Highlight I (12 March 2025)
- WAVE March Highlights II (26 March 2025)
- WAVE Newsletter (31 March 2025)
- WAVE May Highlights I (07 May 2025)

4.2 Dissemination Statistics: WAVE

The following two tables show the reach of the WAVE postings in 2024 (Table 2) and in 2025 (Table 3). Tables 2-3 show that Instagram had the highest reach in both years, while the posting on LinkedIn were less noted.

5. Implementation of the European Webinar Series

5.1 Organisation, preparation and follow-up of the respective Webinar

After the participants registered for the EWS through the website, an 'info pack' E-Mail was sent out with the following information:

- Log-in data for the Webinar and time

- Information on the Participant Area, explaining that log-in details will be sent the day after the first Webinar session, in a separate E-Mail.
- Information on the procedure with the knowledge tests.

The first 'info pack' E-Mail was sent on 27 February to everyone who had registered by that point. These people were listed in a Google Doc table. As soon as new registrations came in, the 'info pack' was sent to them as soon as possible.

As described in chapter 3.2.2, participants received confirmation of their registration before the webinar series began, and log-in details for the participant area shortly after the first webinar. The first E-Mail contained additional information, such as details of the voluntary pre-survey. This pre-survey was an anonymous questionnaire taking approximately five minutes to complete. It included questions about the participants' professional background, previous experience of domestic violence in a professional context and current knowledge of the subject. To enable comparison of the results later on, participants were asked to generate an anonymous code to link their pre-survey responses with the post-survey responses. This approach enabled the learning effect of the Webinar series on participants' knowledge to be assessed.

Moreover, participants were asked to join the Webinar no later than 18:10 at the beginning. This information was deleted after the first Webinar to offer participants more flexibility due to their often stressful work schedules. Despite this, a few participants contacted the EWS coordinator team via E-Mail before the first two Webinar sessions. Right before the start of the first session, some participants asked for the link to join. Some participants confused the participant area with the Zoom link. Project coordinator Bettina Pfleiderer (UM) and task lead Olga Damsen (GES) responded quickly, providing the relevant information.

On 5 March, participants received log-in details for the participant area. Despite the information provided in the E-Mails, some questions arose regarding the procedure with the knowledge assessment tests. UM and GES therefore decided to amend the paragraph in the teaser E-Mail to make it clearer. E-Mails requesting clarification were responded to quickly by the EWS coordinator team. After the third Webinar session, no further E-Mails asking for further clarification were received.

Each Webinar was recorded and uploaded to the participant area the day after the Webinar, together with the respective handout. Moreover, two weeks later, the recording was uploaded to VIPROM's YouTube channel.

Technical adaptation of the EWS:

At the very beginning of the Webinar series, the recordings were uploaded to the participants' area of the VIPROM website and were accessible on YouTube two weeks later. However, this procedure made it impossible to track the reach of each Webinar. The only available data was information on general platform activity, e.g. how much data was downloaded, rather than the number of viewers. While the EWS were already running, the project coordinator (UM) found a way to track viewers by uploading the recordings directly to YouTube in 'private mode'. Therefore, after the third Webinar, the recording was uploaded directly to YouTube in 'private mode'. Two weeks after the Webinar, the YouTube recording was freely accessible. Links to the assessment questions were uploaded right after the Webinar ended. One day after the assessment period ended, participants received an email informing them whether they had passed or not (see Annex 11). In addition, the correct answers were uploaded to the participants' area after the respective assessment period ended. After each session, the speaker received an email of thanks.

5.2 Implementation of the Webinar sessions

Table 4 provides an overview of the Webinar sessions that have been conducted, including the date, content, link to the YouTube recording and speakers.

5.3 Statistics

5.3.1 Attendants

In total, 1877 participants attended the EWS in form of live attendance, view on demand or on YouTube (see Table 5).

Table 5 presents the total number of participants, both live and on demand. There are two settings for the number of participants who watched the recorded Webinars: first, those watched in the participant area within the first two weeks after the Webinar took place; and second, those uploaded to YouTube and made accessible to the public after two weeks.

Table 5 shows the number of participants who viewed our Webinars, either live or on demand.

*Registered participants only

** Estimated based on the average number of participants in Webinars 1–3. Due to technical issues, it was not possible to track activity in the participant area for the first two Webinar recordings. It could only be seen that there was traffic. From Webinar 3 onwards, UM found a way to track the viewers. Therefore, the number of views for Webinars 1 and 2 have been estimated only.

*** Numbers only available for Webinars 3-10

5.3.2 Participant information

Of our 504 registered participants, the largest number originated from Malta (n=139), followed by Greece (n=95), Sweden (n=90), Austria (n=62) and Italy (n= 62). Three participants did not specify their country of origin. (see Table 6). All together participants came from 30 countries.

An interesting observation is that we gained also participants from countries outside of Europe, e.g. Eswatini, Canada and Sri Lanka. The three professions most often represented amongst the participants are nurses (n=86), followed by physicians (n=79) and psychologists (n=74) (see Table 7), coming mainly from the healthcare sector (n=368) and social sector (n=143) (see Table 8). Ticking multiple choices were possible. Most participants work for a healthcare provider, e.g. a hospital (n=224) or in an academic institution (n=183) (see Table 9).

5.3.3 Downloaded Materials

Table 10 depicts the numbers of downloaded material. After each Webinar session, the corresponding handout was uploaded in the participant area. After the last Webinar, a document with all handouts combined was uploaded. The numbers for downloaded handouts 1-3 can only be estimated as we were not able to monitor the number of downloaded materials for webinars 1-3. Moreover, the correct responses to the assessment questions were uploaded two weeks after each Webinar. In total, 1238 materials were downloaded.

Table 10: Numbers of downloaded materials related to the Webinars:

It also shows the number of participants who were eligible to receive a certificate (5 /10 Webinars passed). The table shows that, in 86–95% of cases, the tests were completed, while a minimum of 92% (up to 100%, as in Webinar 6) passed the tests.

5.4 After the EWS

With the last Webinar on 8 July 2025, the Webinar series was successfully completed. Following up in this, the participants received an E-Mail from project coordinator Bettina Pfeleiderer and their certificates in August 2025. An E-Mail with words of gratitude was sent out to all speakers of the Webinars on 6 August.

After the webinar series ended, all the participants' assessment results were collected in an Excel spreadsheet, which provided an overview of each person's participation and test results. For every participant, the table showed which assessment tests had been completed, the scores achieved, and whether the participant had passed by reaching 7 out of 10 points. It also enabled us to identify those participants who had successfully passed at least five out of ten tests and were therefore eligible to receive a certificate (UM). Registration for the Changemaker event opened in July 2025. The EWS coordinator team received several emails of gratitude. Some examples can be read below:

Some exemplary quotes:

"It was not only an enriching learning experience, but also a unique opportunity to connect with insightful and dedicated professionals from different fields."

- Lamprini Zindrou, Greece -

“Good morning, just to say – well done for the training, keep up your excellent work for the benefit of society. GRAZZI”

- Participant of our EWS -

“Thank you for your E-Mails, help, and certificate. I am really grateful to you and all the team. The course was insightful and interesting, and I am happy to have joined the course.”

- Participant of our EWS –

6. Challenges and Solutions

The Webinar series went off without any major disruptions. A few technical adaptations had to be made at the beginning:

- Starting from Webinar 2, live participants have been allowed to unmute themselves to participate in the Q&A round. The coordinator team noticed that this resulted in more questions and interaction from the live participants. There was a steady level of participation up to the last Webinar.
- A Q&A function was implemented in Zoom starting from Webinar 3, enabling live participants to ask questions either to everyone or directly to the speaker.
- Abstaining from the use of breakout sessions. These were usually intended to be used for didactic purposes. However, in Webinar 1, around 60 live participants left during the breakout sessions and did not log in again.
- It was not possible to track the number of handouts downloaded (for Webinars 1–3) or recordings viewed (for Webinar 1.2). UM found a solution in the form of an app designed for data tracking, Matomo.

7. Lessons learned and outlook

- With around 1,900 people attending instead of the planned 400, the EWS was certainly a success. Although the number of live participants was relatively low for the last 4 Webinars (between 22 to 38 per webinar), the Webinars were characterised by lively contributions and intensive discussions about DV. Both the coordination team and the speakers received very positive feedback. It has been proven to be very useful to combine live Webinars with the opportunity to watch the Webinar on demand, which is freely available after the live events.
- A sneak preview of the EWS evaluations (which are not included in this deliverable; the evaluation was carried out as part of a MD thesis by a medical student) revealed that the format, content and speakers were well received. Participants felt that their knowledge of domestic violence had improved considerably (see also chapter 5.4).
- A dissemination strategy consisting of a variety of channels (social media, E-Mails, face-to-face promotion, newsletters and websites) and tailored to the target group has proven to be effective.
- Conducting a Webinar series facilitates the uptake of other project outcomes or new follow-up activities are initiated: the European Webinar Series had two positive side effects: During the first Webinar session, some participants expressed a desire for more opportunities to exchange knowledge and share expertise within the medical sector. Thus, a VIPROM networking event will be taking place on 28 October. By the submission date of this deliverable, 26 people had registered for the online event. Secondly, the VIPROM project gained more attention. For example, the number of subscribers to the VIPROM newsletter has almost doubled. Furthermore, the number of views and downloads of the VIPROM blogs and deliverables has increased (see table in Annex 12).

Overall, we can conclude that the VIPROM project has a significant impact on raising awareness of domestic violence (DV) in the medical sector. The European Training Platform, an integral component of the project, provides high-quality training resources for both in-person and online DV training, including national stakeholder training sessions.

8. Annexes

Annex 8.1: Concept Note for VIPROM Partners VIPROM – VICTIM PROTECTION IN MEDICINE

European Webinar Series – Concept Note

1. Basic information

To extend the impact on the health sector beyond the five partner countries, VIPROM includes the implementation of a “European Webinar Series” (EWS). The aim is to extend the ability for medical professionals to participate in the curricula across Europe. This will also enable the project to increase awareness of the curricula and EU-training platform. In the following, we will conclude some basic information that you also received in our kick-off meeting. Afterwards, we will give you more conceptual information.

1.1 Basic framework for the EWS:

- 10 Sessions
- The teaching sessions will take 1.5h for each English EU training module (1h of teaching and a 30 min for Q&A).
- Target group: medical stakeholders all over Europe
- Total reach needed: 400 participants
- The sessions should be built on each other, based on the training modules 1-8 (health sector), with the target group being medical stakeholders all over Europe
- 8 sessions will be conducted by VIPROM’s consortiums partners, 2 by cooperation partners.

1.2 Envisaged timeframe (set by the consortium)

- Tuesday, 04. March 2025 – Tuesday, 08. July 2025
- 10 sessions (every two weeks Tuesday)
- 7 p.m. (CET/CEST)

1.3 Content

The content of the first seven sessions is based on the modules of the training platform (however, not chronologically). For the eighth session, it is planned to conduct a stakeholder-specific webinar for dentistry. The topic of the last two sessions is still to be set.

See table:

VIC, UU & HFA: please get in touch with PLUS before designing your script in order to discuss which content of Module 8 and ICC to include into your sessions ☺

1.4 Organisational framework

Language: English

Registration:

- through VIPROM Website

Recordings:

- The recordings will be uploaded on our YouTube channel and will be accessible through a log-in password
- The participants don't necessarily need to be in the "live" sessions, they can watch the recordings afterwards. This offers more flexibility towards the participants who usually have a busy working schedule.

YouTube translations:

- The recorded and uploaded sessions can be translated through YouTube (good quality)
- Helps to lower the barrier to participate (English)

1.5 Certificate & Credit Points:

- Certificate of attendance is possible
- Participants will get a certificate when they pass 5 knowledge assessment tests
- Credit points: it will be possible to get credit points for Germany and maybe for the other partner countries. Our influence ends beyond the partner countries. The knowledge assessment tests will be adjusted to the respective national criteria for getting CP accreditation.
- Participants can take part without doing the tests, when they don't need credit points or don't want a certificate
- Provision of handouts
- Evaluation: Survey

2. Conceptual information

2.1 Framework & Methodology

As mentioned above and in our consortium meetings, the webinar series aims to give the participants a basic overview on the topic of DV. Although our impact might be limited when it comes to in-depth information about this complex topic, we still want to convey high-quality content, raise awareness and promote agency.

Therefore, we should follow two basic messages / principles:

The essential message of the webinar series should be: "You are a key person in disclosing DV",

"This is how you can recognise and act", "Your action can make a change". Knowing various tools (e.g. Risk assessment) and specific information is an asset, but not our essential message.

Another important key factor is the reduction of barriers in dealing with DV. As various external studies and also our needs assessment have shown, medical professionals often fear to open "the box of pandora", do not feel informed enough, act on existing stereotypes (e.g. "it's a private issue and not my business"), and many more. Our message should be: "One question can make a huge impact – ask about DV experience", "You only need 5 minutes to change a victim's life", "There are ways to help – this is how you can do it".

Moreover, and in regard of the target group, we encourage you to forge a bridge to the medical aspects: DV may have a huge impact on the victim's health. A victim's symptoms can be rooted in abuse. For in-depth information, the referral to the training platform should always be made.

Moreover, we want to remind you to use simple English. Our training platform offers a variety of visual material such as Video, Pictures etc. Please don't hesitate to make use of them to make sure everyone is "in the boat". The visual material is not only helpful for the knowledge transfer, but can also create a memorability and likely raise the chance that the participants will make use of the platform after completing the training. We also kindly ask you to include at least 1 Case Study per webinar. And as always: Keep it as practice-orientated as possible.

Summary:

- The webinars have a limited impact (1 hour of teaching)
- They therefore serve as basic knowledge transfer and an introduction to the platform
- VIPROM's essential message should be conveyed ("Recognise and act on DV, you are the key figures, your action is important")
- Another objective is to reduce the "fear" of dealing with DV ("There are ways to help, this is how you can do it")
- Use simple English
- Make use of Case Studies, Videos, Pictures etc.
- Practice-orientation
- Reflexion-tasks (more information below)

2.2 Target Group

We have already mentioned the need of keeping the webinar sessions as stakeholder- and practice-orientated as possible. One of our challenges is not only the language barrier, but also the fact that very different medical professions in different settings (e.g. independent midwife – dentist) will be represented amongst the participants. Our message is: "Statistically it is evident that all of you will meet a victim of DV at one point, the question is: how you shape the contact?"

Moreover, we encourage you to include reflexion tasks, like:

- "What kind of resources can I make use of in my institution?"
- "What are the barriers and how could I overcome them?"
- "What could be a first step?"
- "Who can be my ally?"
- "Do I already know the victim support services, women's shelters and victim protection commissioner from the police in my region?"
- "Do we have flyers or information posters in our institution?"

2.3 Format

- Power Point
- Videos, Pictures
- Interactive tools, if considered to be helpful
- Case Studies

1. Description of Work

T4.4 Curricula Webinar Series (M25-M27)

“After finalizing the international EU curricula in English, VIPROM will plan a weekly webinar series starting at M25 till M35 and will host a 1.5h session for each English EU training module open to a wide variety of European medical stakeholders beyond the participants of face-to-face trainings (1h of teaching and a 30-min session for Q&A). The VIPROM medical partners and trained trainers (in T4.2) will be responsible for conducting the sessions. The leader of T4.4 (GES) will coordinate the webinar series and cooperate with partner GES in T6.2 to promote and disseminate the event widely. The webinar trainings will be facilitated utilizing the training platform and the online resources therein. The webinar session will be recorded and made available beyond the webinar date on IMPRODOVA's already existing YouTube channel (<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UC998cREyGoT--daViElI2fQ>). Through the webinar format, VIPROM will be able to increase the number of stakeholders reached in the medical sector beyond the countries represented in VIPROM and create a sustainable online format. We expect to reach a mean of at least 40 participants per webinar.” (Grant Agreement).

2. Objectives and Instructions for this template

The aim of this template is to receive a first draft / agenda of the webinar sessions from all partners. Since the webinar sessions are built upon each other and cannot be seen as individual trainings, it is important to agree on a basic structure. As task lead for T4.4., GESINE therefore set up a common framework and would kindly like to ask you to fill in your first ideas. Based upon this, all of us will be able to build the final Power Point presentation.

The concept notes act as a foundation for this template, in case of questions we ask you to read it again or reach out to us 😊

1. Description of Work

T4.4 Curricula Webinar Series (M25-M27)

“After finalizing the international EU curricula in English, VIPROM will plan a weekly webinar series starting at M25 till M35 and will host a 1.5h session for each English EU training module open to a wide variety of European medical stakeholders beyond the participants of face-to-face trainings (1h of teaching and a 30-min session for Q&A). The VIPROM medical partners and trained trainers (in T4.2) will be responsible for conducting the sessions. The leader of T4.4 (GES) will coordinate the webinar series and cooperate with partners to promote and disseminate the event widely. The webinar trainings will be facilitated utilising the training platform and the online resources therein. The webinar session will be recorded and made available beyond the webinar date on IMPRODOVA's already existing YouTube channel (<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UC998cREyGoT--daViElI2fQ>). Through the webinar format, VIPROM will be able to increase the number of stakeholders reached in the medical sector beyond the countries represented in VIPROM and create a sustainable online format. We expect to reach a mean of at least 40 participants per webinar.” (Grant Agreement).

2. Objectives and Instructions for this template

Thank you all for providing us information on whether you can get Credit Points for the European Webinar Series in your respective country. In a second (and final) step, after reviewing your information, we need now to submit the questions that will be used in knowledge assessment tests.

Short reminder:

- The tests will be done through a professional programme, provided by WWU
- The tests will be closed two weeks after the webinar.
- Every partner needs to submit 10 questions related to the content of the webinar they are responsible for

Please submit the questions for your webinar content. In order to make sure that our Italian partners get their CP's, we kindly ask you to provide 5 answer options per question, of which 1 is correct.

2.2 Participant area:

On the website, the participants can access the participant area:

Why Attend?

- Gain critical knowledge and skills to identify and address DV in healthcare contexts.
- Learn from leading experts in the field, including VIPROM consortium and collaboration partners.
- Participate in live Q&A sessions to clarify concepts and share experiences with peers.

It will be accessible with a log-in name and password. The log-in password will be sent to the registered participants prior to the first webinar.

Important note: Before the webinar starts, WWU will send an e-mail to all registered persons and explain the procedure (technical part, participant area, knowledge assessment tests / CP's etc.). Therefore, all trainers can focus on their teaching part.

The participant area contains:

- The recording of the live webinar
- The link to the knowledge assessment test and explanations Handout(s)

2.3 Technical support:

WWU will be taking care of the technical part, such as:

- Creating Zoom links & sending out the link 1-2 days before the webinar
- Have at least 1 Person in the room for technical support
- Do screenshots of the participants for the reporting
- Recording of the webinar
- Uploading the recording and the handout in the participant area
- Uploading the knowledge assessment test link in the participant area. □ Uploading the recording on YouTube after two weeks

2.4 Recordings:

The recordings will be uploaded on our project website through a log-in password (→ participant area). They will be available to watch for 2 weeks, then be uploaded on our YouTube channel. The participants don't necessarily need to be in the "live" sessions, they can watch the recordings afterwards- This offers more flexibility towards the participants who usually have a busy working schedule.

2.5 Knowledge Assessment, Credit Points, Certificates

When passing 5 of 10 knowledge assessment tests, participants can get a Certificate of attendance and/or Credit Points (Germany or Austria). 7 of 10 answers have to be correct (criteria of the German Medical Chamber). Bettina has already applied at the Medical Chamber and assumes that the participants can get 2 or 3 CPs per webinar<sup>1</sup>. Participants can take part without doing the tests, but then won't get CP's or a certificate.

The assessment questions will be programmed in UNIPARK and will be accessible right after the webinar ended in the log-in / participant area.

! The participants will have two weeks to finish the tests. Also, two weeks after the webinar, all registered participants will receive an e-mail with the correct answers.

2.6 Evaluation:

WWU will do an evaluation in form of two questionnaires: one prior and one after the webinar series. Note: evaluation is not mandatory for the EWS, therefore it will happen "outside" of the project (WWU). Partners/Trainers don't have to take care of it.

3. Conceptual framework & methodology

As mentioned above and in our consortium meetings, the webinar series aims to give the participants a basic overview on the topic of DV. Although our impact might be limited when it comes to in-depth information about this complex topic, we still want to convey high-quality content, raise awareness and promote agency.

Therefore, we should follow two basic messages / principles:

The essential message of the webinar series should be: "You are a key person in disclosing DV",

"This is how you can recognise and act", "Your action can make a change". Knowing various tools (e.g. Risk assessment) and specific information is an asset, but not our essential message.

Another important key factor is the reduction of barriers in dealing with DV. As various external studies and also our needs assessment have shown, medical professionals often fear to open "the box of pandora", do not feel informed enough, act on existing stereotypes (e.g. "it's a private issue and not my business"), and many more. Our message should be: "One question can make a huge impact – ask about DV experience", "You only need 5 minutes to change a victim's life", "There are ways to help – this is how you can do it".

Moreover, and dependent upon the target group, we encourage you to forge a bridge to the medical aspects: DV may have a huge impact on the victim's health. A victim's symptoms can be rooted in abuse.

For in-depth information, the referral to the training platform should always be made.

Moreover, we want to remind you to use simple English.

Please do not forget to inform the participants about the handouts in the participant area.

Moreover, WWU created a slide with "next steps" that we ask all trainers to include into their presentations:

Domestic violence can profoundly affect victims' physical and mental health. Yet, many medical professionals feel unprepared to identify and support victims effectively. Launched in 2023, the EU project viprom-cerv.eu - Victim Protection in Medicine - aims to bridge this gap by offering specialised, sustainable training for medical professionals. With partners from Austria, Germany, Greece, Italy, and Sweden, VIPROM is rolling out train-the-trainer programs to ensure high-quality implementation and support for victims. viprom-cerveu has developed and translated training modules to empower medical professionals and medical and dental students across Europe. Nurses, midwives, dentists and physicians often serve as the first point of contact for those experiencing domestic violence, even if victims hesitate to disclose their situation. Since medical staff are among the most trusted professionals for discussing domestic violence with their patients, it is vital they provide a high-quality care. VIPROM's pilot trainings are starting this fall; all with the aim of equipping healthcare providers with essential skills to support and protect victims of domestic violence. The training platform is available here: <https://lnkd.in/ea6wVRgz> #endVAWG #VIPROM #VIPROMproject

Text:

From October 2024 to February 2025, participants in the viprom-cerveu training on domestic violence will gain essential skills to support victims of domestic violence and ensure the highest standard of care. The training covers how to recognise indicators of violence, communicate sensitively, conduct medical assessments while preserving evidence, and understand risk assessment and safety planning. Participants will also learn about international legal frameworks, interorganisational cooperation, and addressing stereotypes and unconscious bias. This comprehensive training ensures that medical professionals are well-prepared to provide exceptional care and support. Find a module here: <https://lnkd.in/dhwtvZAu>

💡 The learning does not stop there - save the date for the "European Webinar Series" from March to July 2025. Running every two weeks, this 10-session series will extend the curriculum to medical professionals across Europe, broadening its reach and impact.
